

A festive indoor Christmas display at Zoku. The scene is a long, brightly lit hallway with a polished floor that reflects the warm white string lights. The walls and ceiling are framed by these lights, creating a cozy, tunnel-like effect. Large potted plants, including a prominent Bird of Paradise on the left and a large leafy plant on the right, are placed along the sides. In the background, a dining area with tables and chairs is visible, also decorated with lights. The overall atmosphere is warm and celebratory.
